THE GLASS IN USE.

An Enormous Showing for That Industry in the United States.

What a lot of glass there is in the world when one comes to think about it. Some slight idea of the vastness of the amount of glass used for windows and mirrors may be obtained, says the Buffalo Commercial, when it is stated that for several years past the sum of money annually paid in premiums for insurance has reached close upon $700,000, a sum representing glass to the actual value of $23,000,000.

Nor does this by any means include the whole of the glass thus used, for assuredly there are many people who do not insure at all, and some who only do so partially. In a large hotel now building in New York city there will be 3,000 sashes, each about four feet square, without counting the large windows on the ground floor.

A still better idea of the quantity of glass used throughout the United States may be obtained from the estimates that during the coming year there will be manufactured and imported some 80,500,000 square feet of plate, mirror and sheet glass. In detail 12,000,000 square feet of plate, 40,000,000 square feet of window or sheet glass, 4,000,000 square feet of mirrors and 5,000,000 square feet of colored, ceiling, floor and roofing glass.

This is all to be manufactured in the United States. Then there are orders in hand abroad for importation into America amounting to 4,500,000 square feet of mirror glass, 25,000,000 square feet of window glass, and 800,000 square feet of colored, ceiling and roofing glass.

ANOTHER RAILWAY HORROR.

Twelve Persons Killed and Several Injured in Switzerland.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The people of Switzerland have hardly recovered from the scars caused by the accident at Moon, Obensteln, by which 150 persons on a railroad excursion lost their lives, when they are again startled by another disaster. A special train, which was conveying hundreds of villagers from the surrounding country to witness the fete in connection with the seven hundredth anniversary of the foundation of the city of Bern, was stopped at a siding a short distance from its destination, in order to allow the regular Paris express to pass.

The engineer of the express, as nearly as can now be ascertained, had not been notified of the fact that the excursion train was on the track ahead of him, and a terrible collision resulted.

The rear coach happened to be an empty one, which was intended for passengers to be taken on at another station. The guards in charge of it were killed, but the presence of this car doubtless saved the lives of many occupants of the other coaches. As it was, the passengers in the second coach were nearly all killed or injured.

The trainmen, assisted by the passengers who had escaped injury, set to work immediately to rescue the unfortunate who were imprisoned in the wreck. Heartrending cries of agony served them to almost superhuman efforts, but in spite of their exertions they were forced to witness the death before their eyes of several who had not been killed outright, but were crushed by broken timbers or exposed to the escaping steam from the locomotive. Twelve corpses were taken out of the debris, and the injured were finally extricated and cared for.

Most of the victims of the disaster were residents of towns in the vicinity of Bern, and the news of the calamity has caused excitement and mourning all through the region.

They Sustain Their Pastor.

ROCHESTER, Pa., Aug. 18.—The congregation of the Rev. J. H. Bausman met last night and by a vote of 37 to 12 refused to accept his resignation. The resignation was tendered by Mr. Bausman, who is traveling in Europe, at the request of the board of Elders, who objected to declarations of Mr. Bausman favorable to the stand taken by Prof. Briggs of New York. The congregation, in endorsing Dr. Bausman, practically uphold Prof. Briggs.
